

Law and Politics in Modern Ireland – Introductory Course

This ten week course will cover the essentials of our legal system as it affects our everyday lives. It covers the Constitution, the Courts, Property, House Sales, Criminal Law, Traffic Law, Wills and Probate.

At the course end there will be a mock court on a topic covered during the course in front of a legal professional. There will be a visit to the courts of Criminal Justice and the Houses of the Oireachtas.

The course will suit those interested in how our political and legal systems work and those who might want to pursue further studies in the law or public administration.

Tutor : Sean O’Gorman